Republican Presidential Nominee
to Withdraw From Toga Fight.

MANY CONGRATULATIONS REACH THE CANDIDATE

Senator Convinced He Will Receive the Solid Republican Vote.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Harding, republican nominee for the presidency, announced today that he will withdraw this week from the race
for United States Senator from Ohio.
His petition as a senatorial candidate was filed while Senator Harding was in Chicago.

In a statement today, Mr. Harding said: "There is no possibility of my resignation from the senate. I intend to serve the term out. I do, however, intend to withdraw my petition filed in Ohio giving notice of my intention to run for the senate."

The first conference held today
by Senator Harding was with Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury.

DOESN'T EXPECT SPLIT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator
Harding is confident that he will receive the united republican support for president. He stated today that he will give no consideration to rumors of disaffection in republican ranks.
Time will be allowed for convention wounds to heal. Wounds that remain open will be treated after a permanent organization for the campaign is perfected. "Since his nomination he has received congratulatory messages from the unsuccessful candidates and pledges of their assistance. He was pleased today to have received telegrams of congratulation from many democratic friends. He appreciates that these congratulations are personal."

MEXICO MAY BANISH JACK JOHNSON, PUG

*Noted Negro Fighter May be Driven Out
as an Undesirable Soon.*

TIA JUANA, Mexico, June 15.—Jack Johnson, pugilist, who has been a fugitive from justice for eight years on a charge of white slavery, will be in the custody of the department of justice of the United States late today or early tomorrow, according to announcement from the executive offices of Lower California today. Johnson has been given 24 hours to leave Mexico, and U. S. officers are waiting for him at the international line.

(International News Service)

TIA JUANA, MEXICO, June 15.—
Jack Johnson, once champion pugilist
of the world, is about to be driven out of Mexico, the last place of refuge on the face of the earth for him.
Caught in the country-wide drive against undesirables now sweeping scores of "men without a country" out of Mexico, it will be deportation for the big black man unless he consents to surrender to Uncle Sam, who holds an unserved one-year prison sentence against him imposed in Chicago for white slavery eight years ago.

There seems to be no place for Johnson to go except to jail. There are a number of charges against Johnson here. One is that he has a young American white boy, said to have been shell shocked gassed in the Argonne, as a valet. Two sinister charges are on file against him by two young white girls. Other evidence concerns the mysterious shooting of Jack Johnson's nephew, Gus Rose, a young negro, who Johnson has taken around the world with him. It is authoritatively learned that Jack Johnson will not have more than 30 days more peace in Mexico.

HIGHWAY BODY TO MAKE ROAD MAP

MEETING AT MONTGOMERY
MONDAY ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT YET HELD

The meeting of the state highway commission, to be held Monday at Montgomery, will be one of the most important yet held by this body, which is entrusted with the expenditure of the $25,000,000 authorized by the good roads amendment. It is expected that the state roads map, designating the route that the state highways are to traverse in the 67 counties, will be completed at this meeting, or practically so, and that the road funds will be apportioned to the various counties.

A. G. Patterson, of Albany, is the member of the commission from the Eighth congressional district.

WOOD MAY REPLY TO BUTLER CHARGE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 15.—One of the hottest statements in connection with the republican presidential campaign is being expected from Gen. Leonard Wood as a reply to the assertions of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that "a motley group of stock gamblers, munitions makers and oil and mining promoters started out to buy the republican nomination for Gen.
Wood."

A NEW ANGLE TO THE NAMIE CASE; JUDGE L. P. TROUP IS MANDAMUSED

Probate Judge Cited to Appear at Montgomery
and Show Cause Why Bail Granted.

The Namie case has taken another angle.

And the latest phase of it is this:
The Alabama supreme court has issued a writ of mandamus directing Judge L. P. Troup to appear before it in Montgomery on June 17, to show cause why he should not allow the state to appeal from his recent order granting Namie bond in the sum of $10,000, and if none is found why he should not annul the bond. The contention of attorneys for the state is that if Namie was granted bond on a habeas corpus proceeding, then the state has the right to appeal; if he is not, then Judge Troup was with-

SANDERS TO HEAD ALABAMIANS AT FRISCO; SPECIAL LEAVES JUNE 19TH

Athens Man, National Committeeman Elect, Will Carry Patterson's Proxy.

STATE DELEGATION GOES UNINSTRUCTED

McAdoo and Cox Talked as the Presidential Team in Democratic Circles.

The Alabama delegation to the democratic national convention, which opens at San Francisco on June 28,
will leave for the west on June 19,
and will be headed by Col. W. T.
Sanders, of Athens, national committeeman elect. This announcement was made today by A. G. Patterson, present national committeeman, who has definitely decided that he will be unable to attend the meeting, owing to the illness of the daughter, and has mailed his proxy to Col. Sanders.

The delegates will travel in three Pullmans, which will be attached to L. & N. train Number 4. In addition to the delegates and alternates, a number of ladies will be in the party,
as well as several prominent democrats of the state who are going only as spectators.

So far, the Alabama delegation has not signified its choice for president, and as it is uninstructed there is a strong possibility that it will be split in its preferences. In political circles of the state the opinion now prevails that McAdoo and Cox may be the democratic ticket, although later events
may cause the lightning to strike elsewhere.

CUMMINGS CHAIRMAN

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Only one slight rift in the unclouded program of the first day of the democratic national convention here June 28 was in sight today.

The first day's convention program,
as announced today, calls for the keynote speech by National Chairman Homer S. Cummings, the announcement of committee appointments and adjournment until next day.

However, it was learned that the old fight to abrogate the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to nominate will be re-opened. The movement, delegates said today, has been gaining strength ever since Champ Clark lost the nomination after nine consecutive ballots, even though he had a majority of the votes.

Palmer workers have begun arriving here. Vice President Marshall and his party arrived today.

ther, of Mobile and R. E. Ledbetter, of Montgomery.

were those relating to increased salaries for teachers, the taking of the school census, the conditions of the rural schools, illiteracy and commu-

RED RESOLUTION TO COME BEFORE LABOR FEDERATION

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, June 15.—Opposition of President Samuel Gompers of the
A. F. of L. to the Plum plan for government control and democratic operation of the railways has stirred the railway unions to tense action and a bitter fight was scheduled for today.

Representatives of the coal miners have begun strong agitation to apply
the Plum plan to the mining industry.
Another matter fraught with peril,
scheduled to come before the convention today, was the resolution demanding recognition of the soviet government of Russia and the lifting of the Russian blockade. Indications were that the demands would be snowed under.

The New York harbor transportation strike will be declared off, it was declared by President O'Connor of the Longshoremen's Union. O. A. Anderson, of Galveston, declared that O'Connor could not call off the strike.

95 Degrees For Past Three Days; It's Some Hot

If the weather conditions have anything to do with the crops of this county and the heat will help the farmers in gathering the golden board,
then they will have a most satisfactory time down on the farm.

The sun has been shining in North Alabama for the past two weeks and is now leading J. Pluv by a length.
The heat here has registered a knock out on every citizen of the Twin metropolis for the past three days. The thermometer has been up to a standard of 95 degrees since Saturday,
and shows no inclination for mid-summer slump. Even the Tennessee river won't hold the heat stricken individuals. The rest of the folk of the two cities, being in the minority, have no say and the "river rats" are expected to put through a petition to pave the bottom of the river before going any further with city improvements.

BOND PETITIONS TO BE CIRCULATED IN EACH PRECINCT; COMMITTEE ACTIVE

Chamber of Commerce Arranges
For Early Vote on Good Roads.

ROAD MAPS WILL EXPLAIN THE PLAN

System of Highways, as Proposed, Will Get Country
Out of Mud.

Following an enthusiastic mass
meeting held last night at the Albany
Chamber of Commerce, a committee was today at work planning for the immediate circulation of road bonds
petitions in every precinct of Morgan county.

Members of the committee are: F.
F. Tidwell, chairman; T. M. Dix, J.
H. McMath, Carl D. Patterson.

It is expected that the active circulation of these petitions will begin tomorrow, although many signatures already have been obtained to those that were placed in local drug stores a few days ago. Each petition is to have attached a map showing the complete chain of roads that will result from the bond issue and from the building of state roads under the provisions of the $25,000,000 bond issue. In this way, those who attach their signatures will be thoroughly informed as to the progressive action proposed.

Unless present plans go awry, the petitions will all be returned to the Chamber of Commerce, which is taking the initiative in the good roads movement, by June 25.

Last night's meeting was attended by many representative citizens.
Charles H. Eyster, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided and a number of addresses were made.

What Is Proposed

The petition to the county board of revenue was published in full in a recent issue of the Daily. It provides for the calling of an election to determine if the county shall issue bonds in the sum of $450,000 for the maintenance of present pikes and the building of others. The roads to be constructed are specified in the petition, in order that each section of the county may know just how it will be benefitted. Wide publicity is to be given the movement and a spirited campaign of education conducted.

WILL HELP ALABAMA FARMERS TO MARKET COTTON PROFITABLY

(Anniston Star)

A movement has been inaugurated, upon the suggestion of Prof. J. E. Dugger, director of the Alabama Experiment Station, to extend expert aid to Alabama farmers in the marketing of their cotton. It is planned that the Extension Service, which has well proven its worth to Alabama agricultural interests by the splendid assistance it already has given farmers through county agents, demonstrations, short course and bulletins, will undertake to supply skilled cotton graders to the several counties, the graders to be paid by the county branches of the American Cotton association. The Extension Service in addition will employ one chief cotton classifier and cotton marketing specialist to supervise the work of local graders and to extend to farmers, county agents and other reliable information as to the grading, warehousing and marketing of cotton.

The movement is the result of an article written by Prof. Dugger and published in a recent special number of the Southern Banker. Announcing the proposed plan, a bulletin issued by the Extension Service says:

The Bureau of Markets is pledged to license these expert graders employed by the local organizations and to provide them with information from time to time as to grades and prices of cotton, with news of any potential buyers.

The local branch of the American Association, or other local marketing association, is to pay the salary of each local cotton classifier. Preference in this co-operation will be given to those communities that convert their present warehouses into bonded warehouses, around which most of the activities of the association will naturally center. The local organization will have direct charge of all details of local warehousing, storage and sales, and will arrange with warehouse operators for a suitable system of warehouse receipts for cotton, which will show the official grade and weight of each bale stored in a bonded warehouse.

That ample and reliable information should be at hand before the final formulation of this project, the Alabama Extension Service sometime since employed temporarily C. E. Bassett of Troy, an experienced practical warehouseman, to make a survey of warehouse conditions over Alabama. The results of this survey have been incorporated into the suggested plan.

This project is the first definite step in Alabama in a constructive effort to meet a long felt demand for the more intelligent marketing of the South's greatest cash crop, and will doubtless point the way for a wider co-operation among cotton growers in future, with a view to the more satisfactory marketing of our principal staple. The cotton marketing project or agreement has been so written by Professor Dugger as to provide for the co-operation of any other public agency, besides those mentioned, that may in future have funds available for assisting in the movement for the better marketing of cotton.

This is another instance showing the very great value of the Extension Service to Alabama farmers. It is doing a wonderful work in the state and a work which the farmers appreciate and in which they are giving hearty co-operation. The result is a marked advance in Alabama farming. Diversifying of crops in which food crops are given greater prominence, improvement of farming methods, introduction of a better grade of livestock and community co-operation to promote improved farming conditions and better living conditions are but some of the things the county agents and the Extension Service have brought to Alabama farmers, and the good work is just getting fairly under way.

We are proud of the confidence doctors, druggists and the public have in 666 Chill and Fever Tonic.

CANNED GOODS SUPPLY IS AMPLE

DELANEY FINDS TWO SCORE CHICAGO WAREHOUSES BULGING WITH FOODSTUFFS

By John F. Delaney, Written for the International News Service.

Chicago housewives will be unable to put up fruit and vegetables which require sugar this year, according to the predictions of sugar brokers, but there will be no shortage of canned goods, fruits or other preserved articles that require sugar in their manufacture if the supplies of these commodities in the Chicago storage warehouses is to be taken into consideration.

In my trail through the billion-dollar food reserves of Chicago storage places I saw an enormous amount of canned goods held there. Every place I went cans and cans of food seemed to be in the majority as compared with other things which were being held for a future sale.

I was first introduced to the large amounts of canned goods when I entered the Griswold & Walker warehouse to look over the Bunte Bros' supply of sugar. Here I passed through walls and walls of canned goods lined for blocks on every floor.

In taking photographs of the sugar supply, coffee, rice and other commodities, it was impossible to keep the canned goods out of the picture. They were everywhere.

At the Soo Terminal warehouse, where the I. Wall Commission Company has its headquarters, there were so much canned goods they were crowding their way out of the warehouse proper and were taking available space in the gangways of the building, on the elevator landings and wherever there was enough space to permit of the piling of a row of boxes or a ceiling-high stack.

The Chicago Cold Storage Company also furnished a view of a large amount of canned goods of all descriptions.

In the West Side warehouse subsidiary building at Kinsey and Canal streets, I found five floors of foodstuffs packed in as tightly as it could be packed and not violate the building regulations.

When I entered the cold storage warehouses the canned goods seemed to run more to fish and meats and milk and fruits and vegetables. This of course, was aside from the large amount of fresh vegetables which were found in cold storage, in many cases frozen hard and in some cases, strange to say, I found boxes of apples and bags of raisins rotting—even in cold storage.

I asked about this situation and an attaché of the warehouse declared it was not out of the ordinary, that very frequently large supplies had to be thrown away because they rotted even in a temperature near the zero mark. He said this was due to the condition of the apples and raisins and other fruits at the time of the packing.

I am not an expert on food inspection, and do not pretend to be able to judge scientifically of the condition of meats, but if thousands of pounds of the meat that I saw in the corners apparently discarded, in some of the cold storage warehouses of Chicago, are not rotting and bad then they are certainly being primed for a game, for the labels showed that it had been there for months and months, and an expert on packing house products told me there was no excusable reason for holding meat throughout a year.

At the C. B. & Q. docks, where flour was found molding and breaking the bags, there was also an abundance of canned goods. At the Graham & Morton docks likewise there were hundreds and hundreds of boxes of preserved fruits and vegetables. At the Canada Atlantic docks on East North Water street one could hardly find a passageway to walk through.

Twelve floors, almost solidly packed with canned goods, is not an uncommon sight in a warehouse.

Manners.

Morals and manners, which give color to life, are of much greater importance than laws, which are but their manifestations. The law touches us here and there, but manners are about us everywhere, pervading society like the air we breathe. Good manners, as we call them, are neither more nor less than good behavior; consisting of courtesy and kindness, benevolence being the preponderant element in all kinds of mutually beneficial and pleasant intercourse among human beings. "Civility," said Lady Montagu, "costs nothing and buys everything." The cheapest of all things is kindness. Its exercise requiring the least possible trouble and self-sacrifice. "Win hearts," said Burieligh to Queen Elizabeth, "and you have all men's hearts and purses." If we would only let nature act kindly, free from affectation and artifice, the results on social good humor and happiness would be incalculable.

Dangerous Method.

There are many people who borrow money and fail to pay it back. It isn't that they do not want to pay it back, but they simply forget. A man in an office of a large newspaper borrowed a quarter from another man in the same room, and failed to pay it back after a reasonable length of time. But the man who loaned the money wasn't to be done out of the quarter. He walked up to the forgetful borrower and handed him a half dollar. Naturally the borrower said: "What is this for?"

"Oh," answered the money lender, "that will make 75 cents you owe me." He got his quarter the next day, but suppose the borrower had needed the extra half dollar?

Earliest Coinage.

Coinage, originated in Asia Minor, and as early as the time of Seven Wise Men coins were in common use, according to Mary Mills Patrick, in the National Geographic Magazine. The first coins were made of electrum, which is a mixture of gold and silver, and which was found in natural form in the mountains of Lydia. There were no inscriptions on them, but emblems of religious worship and of trade, the association simply indicating that the two things which the people cared most for were religion and trade.

SECRETARY BAKER ACCEPTS THE RESIGNATION OF "BLACK JACK" PERSHING, LEADER OF A. E. F.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Newton D. Baker, secretary of War, has advised Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary forces that won the world war and humbled the Kaiser, that his resignation will be accepted in the event he should choose to retire from active military duty.

The letter from Mr. Baker follows: "I have received your letter of June 7 with regard to the possibility of your relinquishing duty within the next few months. I am happy to note that you are planning to aid us in the reorganization contemplated by the recent act of Congress, the importance of which, of course, is very great. In this work your knowledge of the qualifications of officers will be indispensable, and as the single list for promotion is a project which you earnestly recommended to Congress, it will help us all to have your aid in instituting it.

"Your military life has been active and exacting; your services to the country entitle you to choose with the utmost freedom the activities and interests to which you should devote your time; and should you agree to your present wish to retire, I feel quite sure the President will heed your wishes whenever expressed. Both the country and the President will know that should any emergency arise after you have retired, your country's call will find you ready to respond."

The Thrift of a MAXWELL
comes from its special steels

Nearly 400,000 owners know well how thrifty a Maxwell really is.

Men in the trade in selling other cars often use the expression "as thrifty as a Maxwell."

Special steels are the underlying cause of Maxwell's thrift.

These are steels, made to Maxwell's own formulae, after years of tests, analysis and study, which make possible the ideal construction of great strength and light weight.

They give a Maxwell the ability to stand wear, strain, twists and jolts that other cars much larger and heavier would have difficulty to resist.

But they make a Maxwell light. They eliminate useless weight; they ease the burden on the engine and thus gas, oil and tires render long mileage results.

Hence, the ever growing respect and admiration for Maxwell the world over; and its consequent fast growing numbers. Nearly 400,000 in use today; a year hence 500,000.

A lunatic who recently escaped from an asylum was eventually recaptured in a large dancing hall in the west end. The fact that he was waltzing divinely and keeping perfect time with the music aroused the other dancers' suspicions and led to his recapture.—Punch, London.

Ancient Grape Sirup.

That the making of grape sirup is not a new thing is shown by the writings of ancient historians. Galen, the Greek physician and writer, who lived in the second century after Christ, says that a "good many Asiatic wines were stored in bottles which were hung in the corner of fireplaces, where, by evaporation, they became dry. This process was called 'samarium.' The Greeks had two kinds of wine, 'protophon,' or first juice of the grape before pressing, and 'deuterion,' or pressed juice. The Romans called them 'vinum primum' and 'vinum secundum.' The juice before fermentation had started was called 'mustum.' After this must, or juice, had been through a heating process, it was known as 'fruitum,' and when, after long heating, it was reduced to one-half or one-third its original volume it was called 'sapa.' This was equivalent to grape sirup and was used by the Romans on their bread.

Perfect Human Figure.

There is much difference of opinion on the subject of perfect human measurements, but according to Professor Sargent, one of the best known authorities on the health of the American woman, the following measurements constitute the perfect figure: Height, 63.6 inches; breadth of neck, 3.8 inches; girth of neck, 12.1 inches; breadth of shoulders, 14 inches; breadth of waist, 8.6 inches; girth of waist, 24.6 inches; breadth of hips, 12.1 inches; girth of hips, 33.4 inches; girth of calf, 13.3 inches; girth of upper arm, 10.1 inches; girth of thigh, 21.4 inches; and of forearm, 9.2 inches. Many other authorities insist that a woman should measure in height 5 feet five inches, or an inch and one-half taller than Professor Sargent's perfect woman.

Oldest Work of Fiction.

The oldest work of fiction extant is thought to be "The Tale of Two Brothers," written 3,200 years ago by the Theban scribe Amen, librarian of the palace of King Menephtah, the supposed Pharaoh of the Exodus. The tale, it appears, was written for the entertainment of the crown prince, who subsequently reigned as Set II. His name appears in two places in the manuscript, probably the only surviving autograph signature of an Egyptian king. This piece of antique fiction, written on 10 sheets of papyrus in a hand hieratic, was purchased in Italy by Mme. D'Orbigny, who sold it in 1857 to the authorities of the British Museum, where it is now known as the D'Orbigny papyrus.

AS SCIENTIST SEES FUTURE

Advances of 500 Years Will Make the Year 1920 Seem Like a Pre-historic Age.

Those unimaginative people who believe the high pitch of inventive genius was reached with the advent of electricity, talking machines, airplanes and the X-ray will be interested to know that civilization on this planet has really just begun. Dr. A. M. Low, a London engineer with many inventions to his credit, says five hundred years hence our descendants will look back upon conditions in 1920 with just such feelings of amused pity as we show for the state of the savages of pre-historic times.

The scientist predicts among other things that in 2420 A. D. all public thoroughfares and parks will be underground, vehicles will be run by wireless, telephones will carry an attachment enabling the speakers to see each other, and all roads will be as smooth as billiard balls.

Dr. Low, who invented a motor scooter and has produced an apparatus for seeing simple objects by wire, in a recent interview in London said in part:

"When a man sets out for business he will not proceed, as he does now, by tramway car or train; he will pass along delightful avenues underneath the surface of the earth. Parks and all other places of public resort and beauty will be roofed in.

"Motor cars and all motor vehicles will proceed by wireless power and not by the crude method of using petrol. They will be fitted up like luxuriously appointed drawing rooms and will be driven at a rate of one hundred miles an hour. Wireless telephones will be installed in the cars, as well as every kind of appointment making for luxury and comfort. Many people will own these cars.

"People will live in a condition of splendid physical isolation. Television—that is, the ability to see your absent friend over a distance of many miles—and wireless telephony will lead to this condition.

"This vision is not extravagant or a wild set of theories. It is the direction in which scientific discoveries and experiments tend. Many scientific men have come face to face with discoveries and inventions which are only separated from actual realization by a simple little difficulty, which will certainly be overcome in time."

The Moon and the Horizon.

According to astronomers it is owing to the atmosphere and the fact that lying low in the line of the earth it is unconsciously compared with other objects, that makes the moon look larger. Just as soon as the moon rises in the heavens and we look up to it without intervening or surrounding objects, it diminishes in apparent size.

A strange phenomenon was observed when taking some exceptionally rapid pictures in New Jersey recently; every third film was found to be blank and on inquiring into the cause it was discovered that alternating current had been used for illumination and that the novograph had actually photographed the alternations of the current, which are too rapid to be perceived by the eye.

"THE RIVER'S END"

PRINCESS TODAY & TOMORROW

Marshall Neilan's Initial Production for First National Proves to Be a Well-Made and Strong Curwood Story.

(Reviewed by George Blaisdell.)

Starting with a snap, developing in the first reel a genuine "touch of nature," "The River's End," Marshall Neilan's initial production for First National, swings steadily through nearly six thousand feet to a truly smashing and gripping climax. The story—there really is a story—is of the frozen north and the Saskatchewan country and it is in James Oliver Curwood's best style.

As to that touch of nature: It is all the more noteworthy because it is not related to the love of man for a woman or vice versa. It is the bond of regard, or of affection if you will, that ripens between two real men, natural enemies by all the rules—one the representative of the Law, the other captured by the first on a charge of murder after a three years' hunt. His lung affected by the cold the Northwest Mounted man collapses. The captive battles to save the life of his new friend—and loses. Early in the action there is shown a representation of the northern lights that will draw attention to the cameraman. One of these is Henry Cronjager, who nearly ten years ago was photographing Maine scenes for Edison—with the thermometer 40 degrees below and the resulting film showing no static.

It may be trite but it is true to say the work of the cast is of uniform excellence. Mr. Neilan's selection of Lewis Stone is especially worthy of praise. Some of the best of the players' work is in the dialogue between the dying policeman and the one-time lawyer, who realizes that the death of his companion means his own freedom. His execution of the lone battle with the many Orientals who spring to the aid of Shan Tung is most thrilling. Marjorie Daw is a continuing delight. She has abundant youth and abundant charm, the unaffected winsomeness of the girl of sixteen, and she has her full share of gray matter.

Then there are the veterans Barney Sherry, who is with us all through the story, and George Nichols. Jane Novak has a serious role, that of a woman relentlessly pursued by the infuriated and influential Shan Tung. Togo Yamamoto's cold-blooded performance as the Oriental fascinates even as it repels.

THEIR 'LUCK' HELD

Men Evidently Not Fated to Die on Gallows.

In the One Case It Would Almost Seem as if the Prisoners Had Intervened to Prevent Heinous Case of Injustice.

Criminological history unfolds some interesting and curious "escapes" from the gallows. In Sussex, England, a man was found guilty of murder by a jury which did not take five minutes in which to consider its verdict. Twice he stood on the death-trap of the gallows, on each occasion the lever failed to release the trap. An indignant country called for his reprieve, which was granted. It was afterward discovered that the gallows, which was made of wood in those days, had swollen by rain that fell heavily on both the nights preceding the dates fixed by the sheriff for the execution.

But here is the case of a man who not only was saved from the gallows, but from hearing his death sentence passed by the judge! A man was charged at the Old Bailey with a peculiarly atrocious crime. The jury sent in word from their retiring room that they were unable to agree upon a verdict, and were escorted to the London coffee house on Ludgate hill, there to be locked up "without food, fire or light," until they had decided upon a unanimous verdict.

Eleven out of the dozen were in favor of a verdict of "guilty," but the foreman of the jury, a Mr. James Simmer, had a rooted objection to capital punishment. He did not believe in the innocence of the man, but he refused to consent to a verdict which would send the man to the gallows.

It was Saturday afternoon when the jury was locked up. By dawn next day six of the jurymen, overcome by discomfort and lack of food, were willing to vote "Not guilty." Toward the afternoon of Sunday the foreman, actuated by feelings of compassion, addressed his fellow-sufferers as follows:

"I am willing to make you a sporting offer and leave the decision as to the guilt or innocence of the poor wretch in Newgate to chance. Observe: I shall balance the poker upright in front of the empty grate. I shall then slowly count 'One! two! three!' You will range yourselves half your number on either side, two yards away. At the word 'three' we shall jump. If the poker falls to the side of the opposition I shall give in to your verdict of 'guilty,' but if it comes down on my side you will join me in returning a verdict of 'not guilty.'—One! two! three!"

At the word "three" the twelve men jumped for all they were worth. The poker fell with a clatter to the side of the foreman! The warders were summoned, and the jurors were escorted back to the Old Bailey, re-entered the jury box and gave their verdict.

The judge, who had provided himself with the ominous black cap, appeared completely paralyzed with astonishment on hearing the announcement.

Twenty years later a convict at Portland was fatally injured by the premature explosion of a cartridge. Before he died he confessed to being guilty of the crime for which the innocent man was arraigned at the Old Bailey 20 years before, and was only saved in the manner described, by the fall of the poker toward the foreman of the jury.

Community Theater.
San Jose, Cal., is going to be the first town in the west to have a community educational theater. This proposed theater is not merely going to present plays for the benefit of the community, but it is going to promote acting among the citizens themselves. It will afford an opportunity for every person from the tiniest tot to the oldest citizen to gratify the desire to appear in the world of make-believe, according to Miss Mabel L. Dorsey, who started the idea.

Miss Dorsey, a graduate of a leading school of music and expression, took up the question of establishing the school with members of the chamber of commerce of the city and it was enthusiastically received by them. The primary purpose of the theater is not to make actors, but to develop men and women as well as allow residents of the community to display their talents in singing, speaking and dancing.

DON'T WAIT

Take Advantage of a Decatur Citizen's Experience.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Decatur citizen's experience.

Mrs. Virginia Calvin, 1213 Fourth avenue, says: "I had been in poor health for quite a long time. I had just recovered from the grip when I noticed my kidneys were in a weak and disordered condition. There was a painful sensation extending up into the neck of my bladder and I was in bed most all the time, up one day and down the next and I felt miserable. I had large circles and puffy spots underneath my eyes and all of the remedies I tried brought me no relief. Finally, one of the family suggested me trying Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a supply at Dillehay Brothers' Drug Store. I began using them and soon felt much better. I have spoken to many of my neighbors about Doan's Kidney Pills."

Falkville News

Misses Buelah and Effie Clark, the efficient operators at the local exchange, spent Sunday with their sister at Cullman.

Rev. Roy Niager, of Birmingham, filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

L. G. Morris and wife of Birmingham, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid G. Walling.

Welch Dinsmore and family visited his mother, Mrs. Alec Dinsmore near town Sunday evening.

John Green and family, of Albany, motored through the country Sunday evening and spent some time with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Alec Dinsmore sustained a fall last Friday and was painfully injured. No bones were broken, and it is hoped by her many friends that she may be up and out again in a very short time.

Rev. Corley filled his appointment at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening.

The ideal weather of the past week and the pretty prospect in store for the present one, has changed the appearance of the farm lands wonderfully. The lowlands where the bulk of the corn is to be planted is being rushed with a vim, and planting is going on daily. The present week will see the crop planted except in a few isolated places. The hay harvest is being handled in a most satisfactory way, no rain or prospect of rain to mar the gathering of this most important crop.

Several of our citizens attended services at old Hopewell church last Sunday, it being decoration day there.

GERMS CAUSE DECAY OF TEETH

Dental Science Says Germs Act in Three Ways—Produce Acids that Erode the Enamel; Infect Gums, Causing Pyorrhea; Infect Throat and Tonsils Causing Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Systemic Poisonings.

Dental authorities agree that if you would have your teeth last a lifetime and avoid the many local and systemic diseases that come from an unhealthy mouth and infected gums, throat and tonsils you must sterilize your mouth and throat night and morning, as a part of your daily toilet. Dental Science has perfected an agreeable and most effective sterilizing solution called Steroline which absolutely sterilizes the mouth, teeth and throat, penetrating even between the teeth.

Steroline, used as a mouth wash and gargle night and morning, soon becomes a most enjoyable and refreshing part of the toilet. It imparts a most delightful sensation of freshness, cleanliness and comfort to the mouth and throat, purifying the breath even of smokers and preventing pyorrhea, throat irritation, colds, tonsillitis, and many other contagions that gain entrance through the mouth.

Telephone your druggist now for a bottle of Steroline and begin today to enjoy its delights and protection. A large bottle, enough for the entire family, may be had for half a dollar. —Advertisement.

CALLS FOR WAR ON RATS

United States Department of Agriculture Gives Figures of Depredations That Are Astonishing.

The rat in the worst animal pest in the world. From its home among filth it visits dwellings and store rooms to pollute and destroy human food.

It carries bubonic plague and many other diseases fatal to man and has been responsible for more untimely deaths among human beings than all the wars of history.

In the United States rats and mice each year destroy crops and other property valued at over $200,000,000.

This destruction is equivalent to the gross earnings of an army of over 200,000 men.

On many a farm, if the grain eaten and wasted by rats and mice could be sold, the proceeds would more than pay all the farmer's taxes.

The common brown rat breeds six to ten times a year and produces an average of ten young at a litter. Young females breed when only three or four months old.

At this rate a pair of rats, breeding uninterruptedly and without deaths, would at the end of three years (18 generations) be increased to 350,700,482 individuals.

For centuries the world has been fighting rats without organization and at the same time has been feeding them and building for their fortresses for concealment.

If we are to fight them on equal terms, say specialists of the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture, we must deny them food and hiding places and must organize to rid communities of them. The department has devoted a great deal of study to the problem and is anxious to help in rat extermination, not only by supplying bulletins and other printed matter, but by supplying the advice of specialists in specific cases.

Built an Insulated House.

With a house built on the principle of a refrigerator, its walls insulated to keep the cold out, a new idea in construction of residences is being tested in the cold country in Canada, the Ohio State Journal remarks. The residence has been used for a year, being occupied by the designer and his family. It was tested severely during the past winter, when temperatures ran to 40 below zero, but it stood the test and was heated throughout with electric heat during the hardest winter. The walls were designed to keep the cold out and appear to have done so.

The walls are hollow, the outer walls being cement plaster on metal lath, with a top coat of stucco. Back plaster is placed between the metal lath and the studding. The outer wall is a sheet of concrete one and one-half inches thick. The inner wall is of two layers of asphalt paper with wood lath and plaster on top. The airtight space in the wall is filled with insulating material, granulated cork with a mixture of planer shavings. The theory on which it is built is to prevent the movement of warmed air toward a cold surface.

The cost of construction was given as 10 per cent above ordinary methods.

Britain's Oldest Possessions.

The Channel Islands (Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney and Sark) are the oldest possessions of Great Britain. They were formerly an appanage of the duchy of Normandy and were united to the English crown after the Norman conquest of England by William of Normandy, in 1066. The inhabitants of the Channel Islands preferred to remain subjects of King John at the period of the conquest of Normandy by Philip Augustus, 1180-1223. To King John it has been usual to ascribe a document at one time reverted to by the Channel Island people as their Magna Charta; but modern critics have cast very grave doubts on its authenticity. Almost every war with France included a descent on the Channel Islands, but all to no avail. The people, about 90,000 in number, adhere to their old customs, and within well-defined limits make their own laws. They are not bound by acts of the Imperial parliament unless specially named in them.

Good Sportsmanship.

If anything were needed to show at once both the British love of outdoor sports and the number of young Englishmen who were crippled by the war, it could be found in the actions of the British National Lawn Tennis association in so modifying the rules of the game that a one-armed player, when he serves, may toss the ball from his racket instead of with his hand. To put a disabled player on an equality with competitors who are whole is the very flower of sportsmanship.—Youth's Companion.

Telephone Facts.

The telephone industry in 1917 gave employment to 262,629 persons, of whom 171,110, or over 65 per cent were women. The sum paid out in salaries and wages amounted to $475,670,449. Those employees operated plants and equipment valued at $1,492,320,015, which yielded operating and nonoperating revenues of $391,490,531.

London's Fight on Prohibition.

The remodeling of London saloons to make them attractive forms part of the scheme evolved as a counter move to the prohibitionists who have sworn to make London dry. Brewers and licensed victuallers have hired architects to plan large, airy public houses, where food as well as drink can be obtained.

666 has more imitations than any other Chill and Fever Tonic on the market, but no one wants imitations. They are dangerous things in the medicine line. Adv.

HITS AND MISSES

By BARRETT SHELTON

During the 1919 season only two hurlers gained the threshold of the hall of fame in the no-hit column of the Majors. These two boxmen are going good this year and will try their hand a second time. Hod Eller was the first to send in a no-hit victory. St. Louis was his victim. Only three men gained access to the first cushion and all these were on passes issued by the noted hurler. Ray Caldwell, of the Indian firing corps, was the second and last. The Yanks took their medicine from him September 10, with a 3-0 verdict.

Pitcher Reuther, of the Cincinnati Reds is not doing as well this time as last year. Manager Pat of the Moravian started "Dutch" in nine series as an opening card last year and he won all nine games. He lost in the eighth opener this season, but has won the rest of the way.

Alexander stopped the Cub losing streak at last and "Chi" will now head to the Northward rather than the South, as so many teams are now hunting the tall timber, clearing the way for the Yanks, Indians, Reds and Dodgers.

Slim Sallee has been handed a suspension for violating the pitching rules, and the Reds will be minus a utility man for ten days.

The Chicks and Travelers are minus managers. The "Kid" from Arkansas still mixes too much "white lightning" with his diamond affairs, while the Memphis mogul faces the umps on his blind side and promptly gets a free transportation out of the enclosure.

Every time some star of the big show pulls a fine day the Vols claim him as an "ex"man. The Vols should hold off from their benevolence for awhile and give the Tennessee capitol a rare treat by holding some of these future stars to win the Southern title.

The little hamlet of Lindale, Ga., of the Georgia State League, put one over the Crackers when they got "Dutch" Mitwede. Dutch is punching them out as regularly as Hornsby. The team has been hitting a winning stride ever since the Dutch Boy came its way. Lindale beat Cedartown, the League leaders, 24-5 in a slugfest.

A second Dutchman is in the Cracker Circuit. "Dutch" Marbet, of Lawrenceburg fame, is playing the initial entrance with LaGrange. LaGrange has placed Lindale on the bottom shelf.

Lawrenceburg is putting out the same stellar work this year as last and with practically the same outfit. The slugging corps still is headed by Brooks and Cocke, while Brownlow, Allesio, Hukaba and Cole are at their regular places.

Albany faces a heavy schedule this week, with Moulton coming up for a bout and Hartselle on deck to get theirs. Thompson, local manager, has not yet announced the lineup he will use against these lusty stickers.

Mitwede is also leading the swatting club with his team, with a figure of .364. He got 8 hits and seven tallies out of 22 starts at the platter. The next man to him has a .357 figure.

Johnson will probably face the Hartselle crew the latter part of the week, with Jacobs held in reserve. Graham and Steadman will hold down the Moulton clouting representatives.

The Jennings crowd must have made a secret visit to Brother Isaiah just before they moved their camping ground to seventh place.

The batting record for consecutive hitting was rung up in 1897 when Willie Keeler hit safe in 44 games with a total of 82 hits. Cobb was runner up with a 40 fray record and 80 safe ones.

The fast flying Baron aggregation had the Indian sign on Chief Yellowhorse yesterday at Richwood and scored an easy victory 10 to 5. Every man on the Slaville team hit safely. Gooch the second string receiver got four out of as many tries. Four other Barons quit the plate with three.

The Southern was on another rampage yesterday when every winner fattened averages with terrific driving and fast foot work on the paths. The total score of the Southern League for Monday was 68 with Atlanta, Mobile, Birmingham, and New Orleans returned winners over the other four outfits.

St. Louis twin aggregations are still romping on every team they face. The Giants and Red Sox got it yesterday when they hit 'em low before the Cardinals and Browns.

Birmingham is only six spaces from the leaders this morning and a win by them and a loss by either of the leaders will put the Bold Bad Barons into second place.

Take Care of Good Books.
At spring cleaning time every book should be dusted separately and a fine soft brush whisked in all the crevices where dust may lodge. Keep in the library, also, some transparent adhesive tape and a pair of sharp scissors; you can mend a torn magazine cover in a jiffy, or a book page that some one has torn. You can mend with the adhesive tape, pages of music, and can straighten out bent corners of playing cards, putting a tiny section of the tape under the corner.
